Head, Department of History: Ms. Mini Mathew

The Department of History at St. Cyril's College, Adoor, Kerala, successfully conducted a webinar titled "Covid-19: Impact on Indian Society" on the 1st of July 2020. The event was held online using the Google Meet platform, with Dr. R Dayalan, a retired academician from Chennai, as the resource person. The Webinar was inaugurated by Dr. Susha D, the Principal of our college. The webinar attracted an impressive audience of students, faculty members, and individuals interested in understanding the socio-economic and cultural impacts of the Covid-19 pandemic on Indian society.

Objective of the Webinar

The primary aim of the webinar was to explore the wide-ranging effects of the Covid-19 pandemic on Indian society. Dr. Dayalan focused on how the pandemic disrupted various aspects of daily life, including the economy, education, healthcare, social interactions, and the labor market. The session also aimed to shed light on how the crisis reshaped Indian society's future outlook and the socio-political changes that followed.

Key Highlights of the Webinar

The session began with a warm welcome and introduction by Dr. O C Promod, the Coordinator of the webinar, followed by opening remarks from Ms. Mini Mathew, Head of the Department of History. The discussion was led by Dr. R Dayalan, who delivered an insightful lecture on the following topics:

- Economic Impact: Dr. Dayalan elaborated on how the Indian economy experienced a severe contraction, particularly in the informal sector, which employs a significant portion of the population. Migrant laborers were severely affected, facing job losses, displacement, and poverty.
- Social Changes: The pandemic caused a significant shift in social behavior, with lockdowns and social distancing measures altering community dynamics. Social gatherings, festivals, and public events were curtailed, and people were forced to adapt to a new way of life, leading to a rise in virtual interactions.
- Education and Healthcare: Dr. Dayalan emphasized how the education sector transitioned to online learning, highlighting the challenges faced by students in rural areas due to a lack of internet connectivity. He also spoke about the pressure on the healthcare system, which had to manage not only Covid-19 patients but also non-Covid-19 medical needs.

- Political and Policy Responses: Dr. Dayalan addressed the governmental responses, including lockdowns, economic stimulus packages, and social welfare schemes, aimed at cushioning the impact on vulnerable populations.

Participant Interaction

The session was interactive, with participants joining the Google Meet platform from 10:40 AM onwards. Questions were taken from the attendees towards the end of the presentation. Dr. Dayalan answered queries related to the role of local governance in managing the pandemic and the long-term psychological effects of the pandemic on the general population.

Technical Coordination

The technical aspects of the webinar were handled smoothly by the organizers, with all participants requested to mute their microphones and turn off their video feeds to avoid distractions. The platform was accessible and user-friendly, allowing for seamless communication between the speaker and participants.

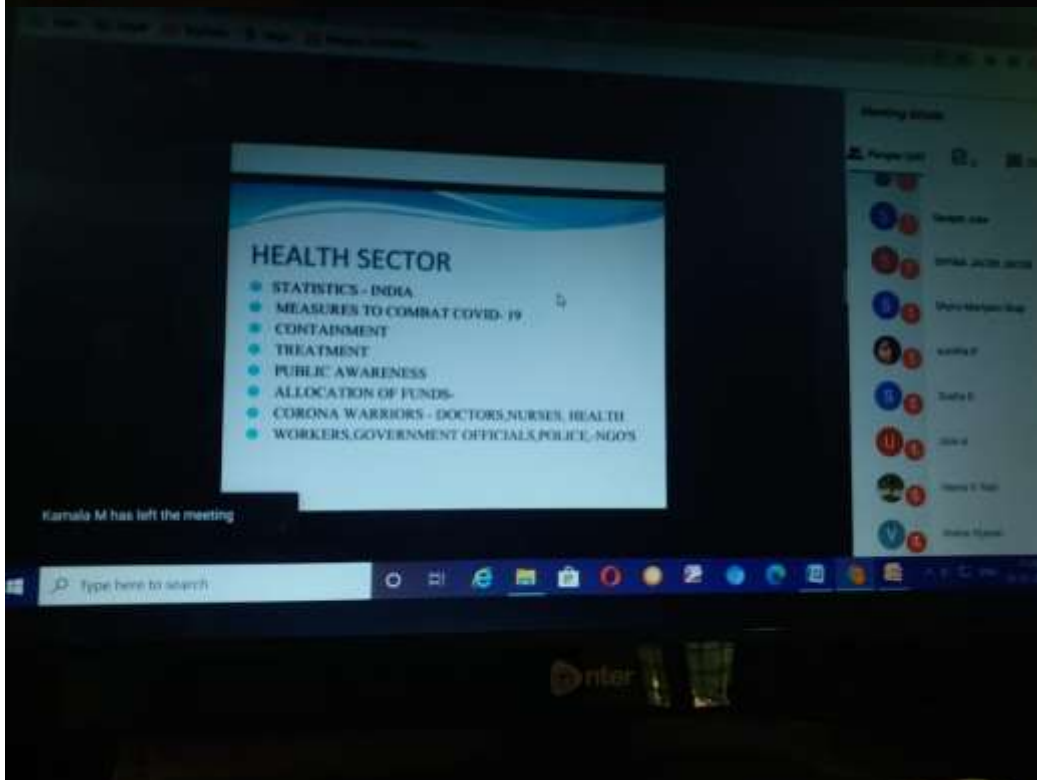

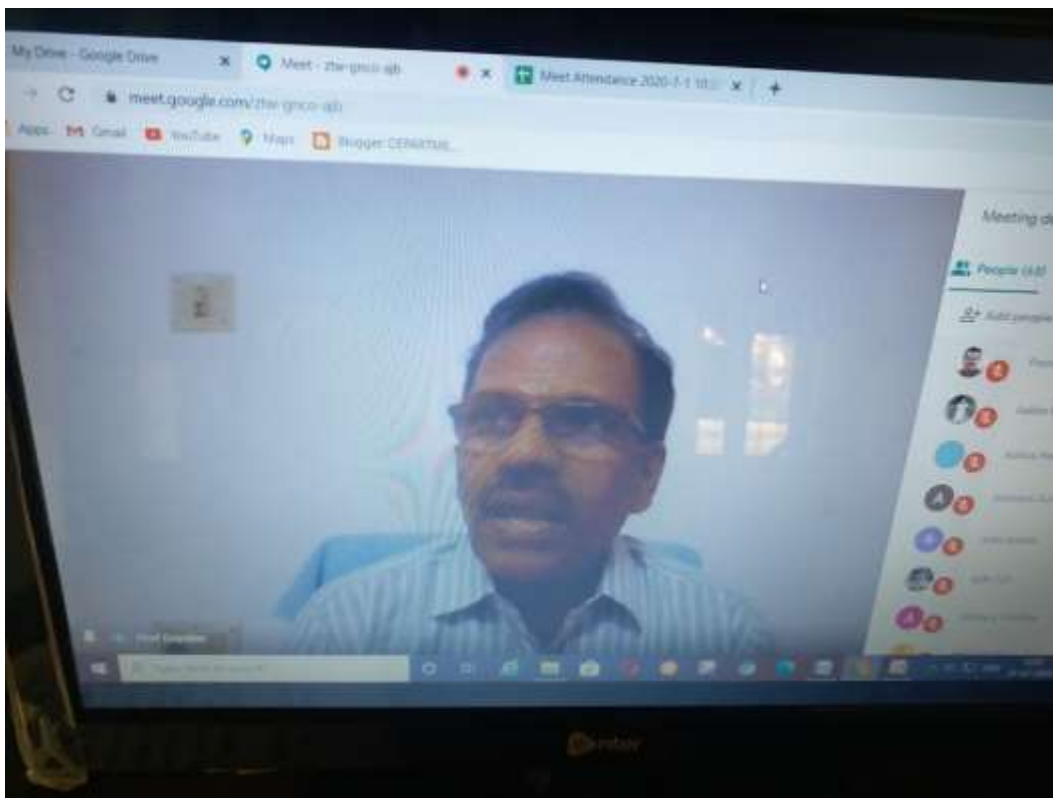

Q&A Session

Following the keynote address, a Q&A session was held where participants raised questions about the socio-economic recovery post-pandemic, the role of technology in bridging gaps during crises, and how Indian society can build resilience for future pandemics.

Conclusion

The webinar concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Dr. O C Promod, who expressed gratitude to the resource person, the attendees, and the organizing committee for their participation and support. The event was highly informative and provided valuable insights into how the Covid-19 pandemic has shaped and continues to shape Indian society.

These values, he asserted, are more relevant than ever in today's world of division and unrest.
- Youth Empowerment and Service: Dr. Subba Rao, being an advocate for youth empowerment, inspired the younger generation to take up social causes and follow in the footsteps of Gandhi. He encouraged them to engage in community service and work towards nation-building, focusing on equality, sustainability, and peace.

- The Importance of Remembering Gandhi Today: Dr. Subba Rao emphasized that Gandhi's ideals should not be confined to historical studies but must be actively practiced in daily life. He called upon the participants to internalize Gandhian values and contribute to a more just and peaceful society.

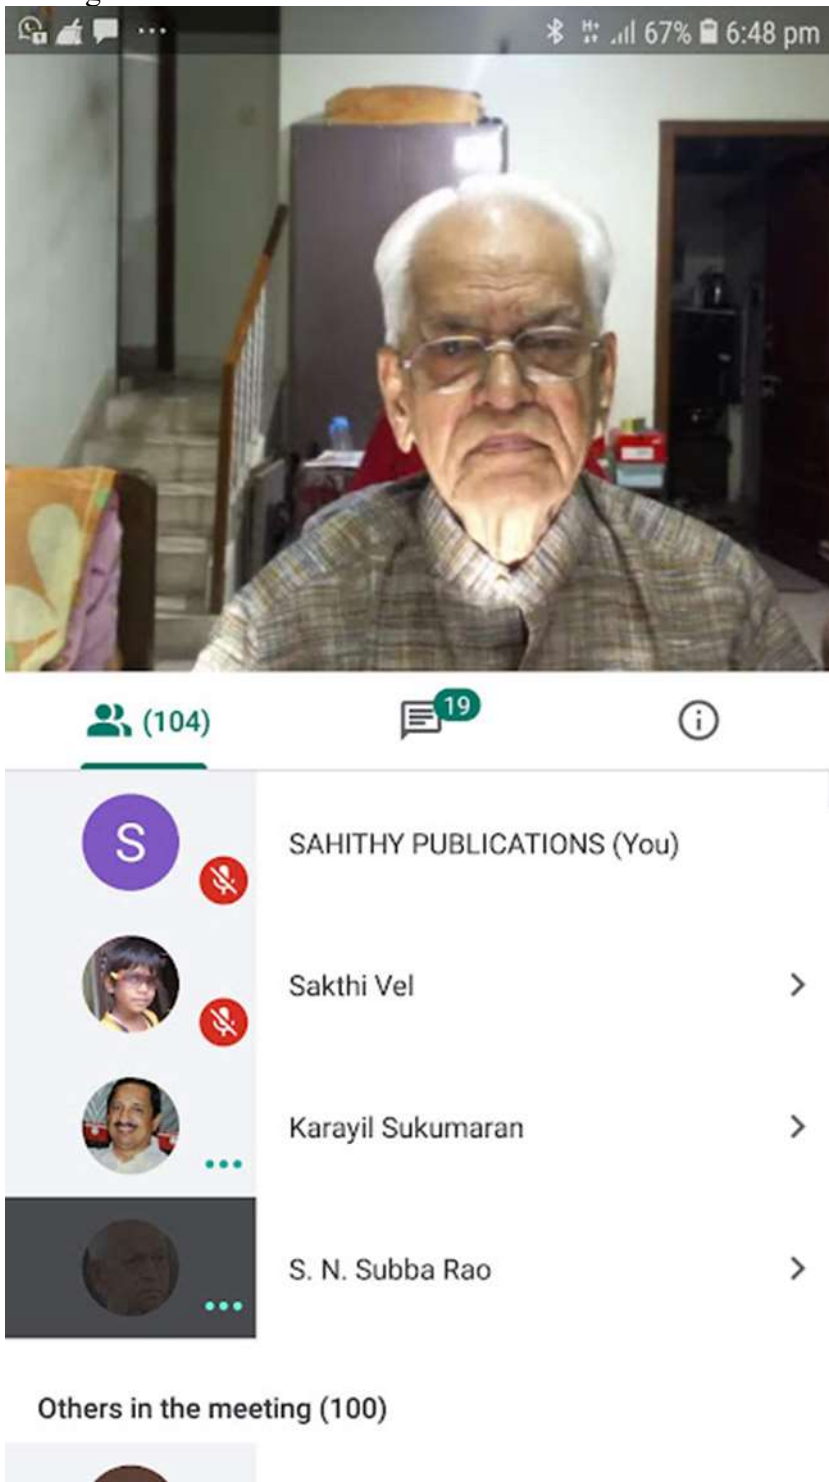

Participant Interaction

The webinar attracted a diverse group of attendees, including students, faculty members, historians, and individuals with a keen interest in Gandhian philosophy. Participants had the opportunity to engage in a lively Q&A session with Dr. Subba Rao, where they asked questions related to Gandhi's impact on Indian society and the relevance of his teachings in contemporary times.

Conclusion

The event concluded with a vote of thanks by Dr O C Promod, Asst. Professor, Dept. of History, who expressed her deep appreciation to Dr. S. N. Subba Rao for his inspiring speech and his ongoing work in promoting Gandhi's legacy. Time: 5:00 PM

Platform: Google Meet

The Department of History, St. Cyril's College, Adoor, Kerala, successfully hosted a webinar titled "Centennial Celebration of Gandhi and Khadi Movement" on 17th October 2020. The event was conducted on Google Meet and focused on commemorating 100 years of the Khadi Movement, initiated by Mahatma Gandhi as a part of India's struggle for independence.

Objective of the Webinar

The objective of the webinar was to highlight the significance of the Khadi Movement, its evolution over the last century, and its relevance in modern India. The session explored Gandhi's vision of self-reliance and how the movement promoted social, economic, and political independence, especially among rural communities.

Key Highlights of the Webinar

The session began with a welcome address by Dr. O C Promod, the Coordinator of the webinar, followed by introductory remarks from Prof. Mini Mathew, Head of the Department of History. The keynote speaker, Dr. Sankar Kumar Sanyal, a distinguished Gandhian and President of Harijan Sevak Samaj, delivered an in-depth and engaging presentation on the following topics:

- Historical Background of the Khadi Movement: Dr. Sanyal traced the origins of the Khadi Movement, starting from its inception by Mahatma Gandhi in 1918 as part of the Non-Cooperation Movement. He discussed how Gandhi promoted Khadi as a symbol of resistance against British industrial goods and a means of empowering rural communities through self-employment.
- Khadi as a Symbol of Nationalism: The resource person elaborated on the socio-political impact of Khadi, which became a powerful symbol of nationalism during India's freedom struggle. Wearing Khadi was not only an economic activity but also a political statement against colonial rule, aimed at uniting Indians across different regions and classes.

- The Role of Khadi in Rural Upliftment: Dr. Sanyal emphasized Gandhi's vision of rural self-reliance through the Khadi Movement. He explained how Khadi production helped alleviate poverty by providing employment to millions of rural Indians. The movement sought to decentralize economic power and encourage sustainable local industries.
- Khadi and Modern India: The discussion also covered the contemporary relevance of Khadi in promoting sustainable development. Dr. Sanyal pointed out that Khadi, as an eco-friendly and hand-spun fabric, holds great potential in today's fast-growing market for organic and environmentally conscious products.
- Gandhi's Influence on Harijan Sevak Samaj: As the President of Harijan Sevak Samaj, Dr. Sanyal connected the philosophy behind the Khadi Movement with Gandhi's broader goals of social reform, particularly in the upliftment of marginalized communities, such as the Harijans (Dalits).

Participant Engagement

The webinar attracted a large number of participants, including students, faculty members, and Gandhi enthusiasts. Participants joined the session from 4:40 PM onwards. During the Q&A session, Dr. Sanyal answered questions on the impact of the Khadi Movement on India's economic policies, the revival of Khadi in recent years, and the role of youth in sustaining Gandhian values.

Technical Coordination

The technical aspects of the webinar were efficiently managed by the organizing committee. Participants were requested to mute their microphones and turn off their video feeds to ensure smooth communication. The platform was accessible, and the session proceeded without any technical issues.

Conclusion

The webinar concluded with a vote of thanks by Dr. O C Promod, who expressed gratitude to Dr. Sankar Kumar Sanyal for his insightful presentation and to all participants for their active involvement. The session was highly informative, providing a comprehensive understanding of the historical significance of the Khadi Movement and its enduring relevance in modern India.
