World Environment Day - 05/06/2023

St. Cyril's College celebrated Environmental Day with a dedicated program aimed at raising awareness about environmental conservation and promoting sustainable practices. The event featured a tree planting ceremony, speeches, and active participation from both college staff and students. Prof. Mini Mathew, the Principal of St. Cyril's College, led the tree planting initiative by planting a sapling on the college grounds. Prof. Mini Mathew delivered an inspiring speech about the importance of environmental conservation and the role each individual can play in protecting the environment. Ms. Mariamma Tharakan expressed support for the college's environmental initiatives and highlighted community efforts in conservation. Dr. Nisha Mathew and Dr. John Major Thomas discussed the NSS's ongoing environmental projects and the significance of participating in such initiatives. NSS Volunteers actively participated in the event by assisting with the tree planting, organizing the ceremony, and engaging in post-event discussions about environmental practices. Successfully planted 20 saplings on the college campus, which will contribute to the enhancement of the campus environment and support local biodiversity. It was recommended to organize regular events focused on various aspects of environmental conservation and to implement follow-up activities to monitor the growth of planted saplings and maintain ongoing environmental awareness.

Halloween Day Celebrations -31/10/2023

St Cyril's College was transformed into a spectral wonderland as the students and faculty embraced the spirit of the ancient festival Halloween with enthusiasm. The festive atmosphere became densified with a vivid narrative of traditions, games, and costumes. The college's Halloween celebration was deeply rooted in tradition, with students taking inspiration from various cultural practices associated with the festival. A significant highlight was the recitation of Robert Burns' poem "Halloween," which was performed by the students of the English department. This poem, which captures the essence of Scottish Halloween customs, set a fitting tone for the day, enveloping the audience in the mystique and charm of ancient Halloween lore. A series of themed games and activities were organized, each designed to elicit excitement, laughter, and a fair share of shrieks among participants.

Kerala Piravi Celebrations – 01/11/2023

Kerala Piravi, meaning "Birth of Kerala," marks the establishment of the state of Kerala on November 1, 1956. The Department of English organised 'Kerala Piravi' to instil Kerala culture and tradition in its students on 1 November 2023. This day is celebrated with great enthusiasm and pride by Keralites to honour their state's rich cultural heritage, natural beauty, and historical significance. Kerala was formed by merging the princely states of Travancore, Cochin, and Malabar. Known as "God's Own Country," Kerala boasts a unique blend of traditions, landscapes, and artistic expressions. The day was observed in college, with cultural programs showcasing Kerala's art, music, and literature. Competitions, debates, and events focusing on Kerala's history and achievements are organized. Students and teachers wore traditional attire like the mundu and settu saree as a mark of respect for their heritage. Music plays an integral role in celebrating Kerala Piravi. Many songs have been composed to honor the beauty, culture, and spirit of Kerala. These songs often highlight the lush greenery, tranquil backwaters, and the cultural pride of the people. The students sang songs and poems on Keralam, games based on Malayalam idioms and proverbs were also played.

National Constitution Day Celebrations – 29/11/2023

Indian National Constitution Day, celebrated on November 26th, commemorates the adoption of the Constitution of India in 1949. It honours the tireless efforts of the Constituent Assembly and Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, the chairman of the drafting committee, in shaping the country's guiding principles and laws. Indian National Constitution Day serves as a platform for citizens to reflect on the country's democratic principles, secular values, and fundamental rights. It aims to foster a deeper understanding of the Constitution's provisions and encourage active participation in upholding its ideals for a just and inclusive society. The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science commemorated Indian National Constitution Day with a series of engaging activities aimed at raising awareness and celebrating the significance of this historic day. The event was designed to educate students and faculty about the Indian Constitution's principles and values. A PowerPoint presentation on Indian Constitution Day presented by Mr. A.K. Anish John, Student Coordinator of the programme serves as a powerful tool to convey the significance, principles, and relevance of the Indian Constitution. Also, teachers and students of our department participated in Quiz on Indian Constitution organized by Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment at MyGov website platform and Read the Preamble Campaign organized by Ministry of Parliamentary Affairs. Participants are acknowledged for their participation with E-Certificates. The celebrations aim not only to commemorate the signing of the Constitution but also to encourage civic engagement, deepen understanding of democratic principles, and foster a sense of national unity and pride in the country's foundational document. These events provide an opportunity for citizens to reflect on the rights, responsibilities, and freedoms enshrined in the Constitution and their significance in modern society.
